

Benjamin Beddome, 1787
86. 86. (C. M.)

Why weepst thou?

No copyright. Transcribed from Plain Psalms, 1800.

C minor
Oliver Holden, 1800

Treble
1. Why, O my soul, why weepest thou? Tell me from whence arise Those brenny

Tenor
2. Is sin the cause of thy complaint? Or the chastening rod? Dost thou an

Bass
3. Lord, let me weep for naught but sin, And after none but Thee; And then I

Tr.
10 tears that often flow, Those groans that pierce the skies, Those groans that pierce the skies.

T.
8 ev - il heart lament, And mourn an absent God? And mourn an absent God?

B.
would, O that I might A constant weeper be, A constant weeper be.