Once more I hail Thee

Music and lyrics collected by Robert Burns (1759–1796)
arr. Ludwig van Beethoven (1770–1827)

25 irische Lieder, WoO 152, № 3

Andante espressivo amoroso

Violino

Violoncello

Pianoforte

Once more I hail thee, thou gloomy De-Fond lo- vers part-ing is sweet, pain-Wild as the win-ter now tear-ing the Still as I hail thee, thou gloomy Decem-ber! Thy vi-sage, so dark; and thy tempest’s dread roar;

pleasure, when hope mild-ly beams on the soft part-ing hour;
for est, un-til the last leaf of the sum-mer is flown;

cem-ber, my an-guish a-wakes at thy vi-sage so hoar;

J.B., Copyright © 25. 8. 2020 by CPDL
sad was the part-ing thou mak’st me re-member: my part-ing with
But the dire feel-ing, O fare-well for ev-er! Is an-guish un-such is the tem-pest has shak-en my bo-som, since hope is de-
sad was the part-ing thou mak’st me re-member: my part-ing with

Nan-cy, Ah! ne’er to meet more!
min-gled and a-go-ny pure!
part-ed and com-fort is gone!
Nan-cy, Ah! ne’er to meet more!
Once more I hail Thee

Music and lyrics collected by Robert Burns (1759–1796)
arr. Ludwig van Beethoven (1770–1827)
25 irische Lieder, WoO 152, № 3

Andante espressivo amoroso

Music engraving by LilyPond 2.20.0—www.lilypond.org