All will be well

Texts: Julian of Norwich
Music: James Geoffrey Allan

Where do we begin? Begin with the heart.

“God, of thy goodness, give me Thyself; for Thou art enough for me, and I can ask for nothing less that can be full honour to Thee. And if I ask anything that is less, ever Shall I be in want, for only in Thee have I all.”

Between God and the soul there is no between.

“Not only He taketh heed to noble things and to great, but also to little and to small, to low and to simple, to one and to other. And so meaneth He in that He saith: ALL MANNER OF THINGS shall be well.”

A great thing shall I make hereof in Heaven of endless worship and everlasting joys.

All will be well, and every kind of thing will be well.

Preferably sung unaccompanied.
The solo parts could be sung by a small group of singers rather than solo voices.

God, of thy good-ness, give me Thy-self; for Thou art e-nough for me, that can be full ho-nour to Thee.
God, of thy good-ness,
for Thou art e-nough for me, and

for thou art enought for me.

for thou art enought for me.
Andante (G = 100)

And if I ask, and if I ask, and if I ask...

Anything that is less, anything that is less, anything that is less...

Ever shall I be in anything that is less... ever shall I be in want,

want, for only in Thee have I all,

want, for only in Thee have I,

in want, for only in Thee have I,

in want, for only in Thee have
In Thee have I all.
