Francis John Barrett (1852–1922) was born in Pound Ridge, Westchester, New York, and was educated at New York University. He became a successful church organist in Brooklyn, beginning before he was 20 years old. He held positions at Kent Street Reformed Church, Ross Street Presbyterian Church, and Strong Place Baptist Church. He died in Brooklyn. His compositions include a handful of anthems, hymns and a few assorted pieces.

When Silence falleth over all,
And Luna sends her beauteous beams
To chase the shadows of the night,
Dear heart, kind heart, sweet heart,
Then peaceful, happy be thy dreams.
Goodnight.

Louise Peer Barrett (1855–1933)
