

Minden

Transcribed from Harmony of Harmony, 1802

1. Ye sons of Adam, vain and young, Indulge your eyes, in - dulse your tongue, Taste the delights your souls de - sire, And give a loose to
2. Pur-sue the pleasures you de - sign, And cheer your hearts with songs and wine; En-joy the day of mirth, but know There is a day of
3. God from on high beholds your thoughts, His book re - cords your secret faults; The works of dark-ness you have done Must all ap - pear be-

1. all your fire. Taste the de-ights your souls desire, your souls de-sire, And give a loose to all your fire;
2. judg-ment too. En-joy the day of mirth, but know, of mirth but know There is a day of judg-ment too.
3. -fore the sun. The works of darkness you have done, that you have done, Must all ap-pear be -fore the sun.

1. all your fire. Taste the delights your souls de - sire, And give a loose to all your fire;
2. judg-ment too. En- joy the day of mirth, but know There is a day of judg-ment too.
3. -fore the sun. The works of darkness you have done Must all ap - pear be -fore the sun.

1. all your fire. Taste the de-ights your souls de - sire, your souls de-sire, And give a loose to all your fire;
2. judg-ment too. En - joy the day of mirth, but know, of mirth, but know There is a day of judg-ment too.
3. -fore the sun. The works of darkness you have done, that you have done, Must all ap -pear be - fore the sun.

4. The vengeance to your follies due
Should strike your hearts with terror through;

How will you stand before his face,
Or answer for his injured grace?

5. Almighty God! turn off their eyes
From these alluring vanities;
And let the thunder of thy word
Awake their souls to fear the Lord.