Notes: The first verse only is given in the source: subsequent verses have been added editorially. The alto part is printed in the source in the treble clef, an octave above sounding pitch. The time signature in the source is retorted time. The vocal and instrumental bass parts are printed on one staff in the source, and have been split out editorially. The alto D and tenor F on beat 1 of bar 4 are printed in the source as small quaver grace notes, and have been editorially expanded.
