

A lullaby

Charles Lee Williams
(1853-1935)

Charles Lee Williams (1853-1935) was born at Winchester. He was a chorister of New College 1862-1865 and assistant organist at Winchester Cathedral 1865-1870. He was then in Ireland as organist at St. Columba's College until 1875 and received a Mus. B. degree at Oxford in 1876. From 1876-1882, he was organist of Llandaff Cathedral then at Gloucester Cathedral, where he served with great distinction until ill health forced retirement in 1898. He remained active as composer and other activities until his death.

Sleep, my love, sleep, rest, my love, rest:
Dieth the moan of the wind in the tree,
Foldeth her pinions the bird in her nest,
Sinks the sun to his bed in the sea.

Sleep, sleep, lulled on my breast,
Tossing and troubled and thinking of me.

Peace, my love, peace, falleth the night,
Veiling in shadows her glory, for thee,
Eyes may be darkened while visions are bright,
Senses be fettered, tho' fancy is free.

Peace, peace, slumbering light,
Longing and loving and dreaming of me.

George John Whyte-Melville (1821-1878)

TERMS OF USE

These editions are available as a service to the choral community, offering inexpensive access to public domain literature. Choir resources can purchase other literature still under copyright, especially to support those creating and publishing new compositions and arrangements. These editions have been created using public domain sources under U. S. copyright law. Out of respect to the research, time and effort invested:

- please print and issue an edition in its entirety, retaining notices, attributions, and logos.
- please do not consider this edition a source for creating another edition.

If performed, sending a copy of the concert program would be a valuable affirmation. If recorded, notification and attribution would be appropriate professional courtesies and a copy of the recording would be greatly appreciated!
