

The Lord hath spoke, the mighty God

Text: Tate/Brady,
on Ps. 50 vv. 1-6.

Psalm 50. Verses, 1, 2, 3.

This edition by Edmund Gooch released into the public domain, September 2010. As such, it may be freely copied and performed.

The Lord hath spoke; the mighty God Hath sent his summons
Our God shall come and keep no more misconstrued silence, Assemble all my saints to me, (Thus runs the great di-

7

all a broad, From dawning light till day declines; The listening earth his voice hath heard, And as before; But wasting flames before him send: A round shall tempests fiercely rage, While vine decree) That in my last-ing covenant live, And off-rings bring with constant care: The

all a broad, From dawning light till day declines; The listening earth his voice hath heard, And
as before; But wasting flames before him send: A round shall tempests fiercely rage, While vine decree) That in my last-ing covenant live, And off-rings bring with constant care: The

all a broad, From dawning light till day declines; The listening earth his voice hath heard, And
as before; But wasting flames before him send: A round shall tempests fiercely rage, While vine decree) That in my last-ing covenant live, And off-rings bring with constant care: The

The Lord hath spoke, the mighty God (Richard Garbett)

he from Si - on hath ap - pear'd, Where beau - ty in per - he does heav'n and earth en - gage His just tri - bu - nal heav'ns his just - ice shall de - clare, For God him - self shall

1.2. 3.
 fec - tion shines. sen - tence give.
 to at - tend.

1.2. 3.
 fec - tion shines. sen - tence give.
 to at - tend.